share

What if we considered Power,
Like the holidays, as something To be shared. Shared with those We love, certainly, but also with Those we'd like to know, and,
Perhaps, with those we'll never Know other than by the changes
They make in this World. Sharing
May be exactly what brings about
The Advent of Peace. I have an image
Of Peace as a glass of champagne
Bubbles bursting, making us giddy
With Hope, with Joy, with Possibility.
Come, share a glass of Peace with me.
